What is Prevent?

Prevent aims to stop people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism. It is part of the Government's Counter Terrorism Strategy.

What is terrorism?

Terrorism is the unlawful use of violence or a threat of violence to support a belief or ideology.

What is extremism?

Extremism is the use of extreme behaviour to support a belief or ideology. Not all extremism is harmful or criminal, but sometimes those who behave in an extreme way, can go on to become terrorists.

Prevention is better than the cure

The Cheshire Constabulary Prevent Team, in partnership with local authorities and other partnership agencies is working to stop people becoming or supporting terrorists. We are doing this by building stronger, safer communities who feel empowered to reject extremism and terrorism in all its forms.

The threat

The communities of Cheshire can be threatened by a minority of people who encourage or glorify violence in the name of a political ideology or a religion. The most severe threat to the UK is currently from people returning from international warzones such as Syria and Iraq. Other threats include people who espouse racist or Islamophobic views such as white supremacists and EDL supporters.

Our aim

To help and prevent people being drawn into terrorism or extremist violence. We do this by supporting those people who are vulnerable to becoming extremists; by working with sectors and institutions and also by challenging extremist ideologies. Ensure that the individual is protected so that our communities remain safe.

Extremist material online

The internet is used by some people to promote terrorism and extremism. Cheshire Constabulary is committed to protecting citizens but we rely on people to tell us about it.
